2.40(b)(2)

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

Both ear flaps on Benji, a male blue French Bulldog (id# 90023300095412) were observed to be bumpy. On closer observation of the inner flap, there were numerous crusty bumps with yellow fluid around them and when rubbed, blood oozed to the surface. There was hair loss on the back of the ear flap and reddened areas along the base of the ear flap. The owner stated that this was not present on the previous day but would take the dog to the veterinarian the following day. Untreated conditions can worsen and prolong suffering. The dog must be evaluated by a veterinarian for diagnosis and treatment. The records of the diagnosis and treatment must be created and maintained and available to APHIS officials.

Correction date: 30 May 2024

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative.
