2.40(b)(2)

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

Female Shih-tzu (DOB 5-29-18, tag #14)'s teeth are mostly covered with plaque and tartar. Her lower left front tooth (incisor) by the large canine was loose to the touch and the gums on various teeth were receded. These are signs of dental disease and if left untreated can cause health problems and discomfort for the dog. Ensure that this dog is seen by the attending veterinarian (AV) and treated per the AV's instructions.

Correct by February 8, 2024.
