2.1(b)(1)

Requirements and application

The licensee has not notified Animal Care 90 days prior to a change in address. An inspection was attempted on April 25, 2023. The inspector knocked on the door, honked their horn, and called the phone number. The phone number was disconnected and there was no way to leave a message. There were no animals seen or heard, the inside of all windows was covered, and there was Tyvek sheeting covering several doors and the siding and, to the inspector, gave the appearance that no one was currently living at the location. The inspector asked a neighbor if the property in question had been correctly identified as the licensee's property. The neighbor reported to the inspector that the licensee had moved out of state approximately one month ago. Licensees shall notify Animal Care no fewer than 90 days prior to a change in the business address. Failure to notify APHIS in advance of a change in address prevents Officials from ensuring adherence to the AWA Standards. The licensee must correct this by applying for and obtaining a new license, with the new address listed, prior to conducting any regulated activity. Correct by: April 28, 2023.
