Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

An adult female Shetland Sheepdog "Nilla" (microchip 985112011766695) has severe dental disease. A heavy buildup of thick brown material was seen covering most of the teeth on both sides. The gums were bright red and severely swollen along the gumlines on both sides of the mouth with the redness and swelling worse on the right side. Additionally, discharge is seen on the right side at the base of a lower molar. Heavy buildup on the teeth with redness, swelling and discharge can be signs of dental problems and can cause infection, pain, and discomfort to the animal.

Failure to provide veterinary care when needed can result in prolonged suffering and worsening of the condition of the animal. Licensees must ensure that they establish and maintain programs of adequate veterinary care, including the use of appropriate methods to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases and injuries. When animals are identified with injuries or illness, they must seek care by their veterinarian to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases. Correct by ensuring that the animal listed above is examined and treated by a licensed veterinarian, also ensure all animals are provided with adequate veterinary care.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
